About True Price

True Price and True Price Foundation are working towards making products more sustainable, by structurally decreasing the social and environmental damage in the value chain. We aim to do so by calculating, showing, and improving the true price of products. The objective of true pricing is not to make your products more expensive, but to make them more sustainable. You will work in a new, small and growing team. We work closely together with our sister company, Impact Institute.
